Ouch!

"Who was the best man at your wedding?" asked the old fogey.
"My wife," replied the grouch.

Betcha!

I like a modest girl who's meek.
If'n though she may be gushing, For when a girl has too much cheek She never does much blushing.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, does taking great pains with anything mean being careful with it?

Paw—Yes, my son. Why do you ask?

Willie—I wanted to know if you could say that a dyspeptic is a man who takes great pains with his eating.
Paw—You go to bed, young man.
You are getting too blamed smart.

Wuff!

A lady dame is Mrs. Mirk.
Her duties she will shrink; She's always doing fancy work, But doesn't fancy work.

Huh!

"It is now said that inhaling sulphur will cure catarrh," remarked the thin man.

"That won't help much," replied the fat man. "You never suffer with catarrh after you die."

Advice.

My son, you should pay as you go.
Give ear to what I'm saying.
Or some day you will cause great woe By going without paying.

Names is Names.

Dr. J. B. Ache is a dentist at Uniontown, Pa., Dr. M. D. Cure lives at Weston, W. Va., Dr. Dye lives at Stetersville, W. Va., and Dr. A. Sick-man lives at North Charleroi, Pa.

Fact.

You can't throw your wife off the track.
No matter how you try.
For, while she cannot drive a tack, She sure can sail a lie.

No, Not If She Ate Cobs and All.
Dear Luke—If a tall slender lady ate an entire batch of corn fritters, would you say she was a corn fed-Mary.

Men.

Beware the man who is half shot.
He is a pest, by Jingo.
For he can talk an awful lot And never say a thing.

Beware 'most any kind of man.
If you would get on swimmers,
And rest your vocal chords a bit, Go visit with the women.

Oh, Joy!

Dear Luke—One of the questions in the efficiency test sent out by the Ohio civil service commission is "What do you read first when you pick up a newspaper?" So far I understand that the usual answer is, "Luke McLuke."

Things to Worry About.

The average man has 9,000,000,000 kinds of worries.

Our Daily Special.

A man's idea of an even break is to get 50 per cent the best of it.

Luke McLuke Says:

There are a lot of red letter days in a young man's calendar. But after he gets married pay day is the biggest event of the week.

The lad who is always doling up his mustache thinks it awfully funny that the girls are constantly primping their hair.

Money won't buy love. But it is there with bells on when you need a divorce.

A man believes that he is entitled to make a dozen mistakes a day. But if his wife makes one mistake he wants to fight.

Most of the good losers seem to imagine that they are expected to put on a continuous performance.

One reason why we are so quick to recognize the faults of others is because the faults are exactly like our own.

The reason why a man hasn't time to shave himself at home is because he needs the time to wait around a barber shop for a half hour for his turn.

A girl who has a complexion that looks like last summer's straw hat can be terribly scared that some brutal man is going to forcibly kiss her every time she goes downtown.

Adam didn't have much of a kick coming. Eve never belonged to an old bunch' anvil association or a gabby crotch club.

The old fashioned woman who used to crawl under a feather bed when a thunderstorm came up now has a daughter who won't have a feather bed in the house because it is insanitary.

Love in a cottage these days means a $4,500 bungalow with a mission dining room and about $6,000 worth of other dorklecks and fidoodlecs.

A man with a whole jungle on his dome isn't so particular. But a bald-headed man gets his three hairs trimmed every week and has to have a set of hair brushes.

A wife will believe a whole lot of things, but when she finds a blond hair on your vest don't try to tell her that you were playing with a collie dog and that the dog was shedding.

UTICA, MONT.

Health is very good and weather is fine. Everybody is enjoying work cutting wheat and putting up their hay. Crops are all fine out here, what have not been hailed out. We have had lots of storms, lots of damage done by lightning, three men killed and quite a number of stock. L. Pond lost a number of cattle and R. L.
Rogers lost two fine mares; also H.
D. Rogers lost one young mare.

I wonder if the old friends in Tennessee will enjoy hearing about the new comers to Montana leaving the deer and coyotes in the mountains and going back to Tennessee to hunt cotton tails for their meat. Of course they can't stand prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Myatt have a fine boy at their place.

Miss Edith Pryor has the blues.

R. L. Rogers had quite an accident the other night. On leaving town he lost all his gub and tore up his bussy.

Basin passed away last week. Roy

DOVER, DEL.

The Cookeville Herald Co: I got acquainted with your paper while at Pleasant Hill in school. There were several Putnam County students there in school.

That school is sure doing a great work. Many of the poor mountain-ers get a fair start in life that otherwise would not have an opportunity to go to school. As you go through Cumberland, White, Overton, and Putnam counties you will see scores of people who consider Mr. Wheeler, the principal of the school, the best friend they have with the exceptions of fathers and mothers.

I have been in Delaware ever since the 13th of June. This is sure a nice country, it is so level; and soil is well adapted to general crops. The eastern part of the state grows fruit as the main crop. The western portion, grain and truck. They have the best peach crop for 25 years, but the sales are poor; only from 10 to 35c per basket. There are acres and acres of tomatoes that are not being picked on account of not being any market for them. The wheat crop was sort, but there is prospects for a bumper corn crop.

The people of Delaware are very busy people indeed. I often think that Tennessee would be one of the most prosperous places in the world, if the people would work twelve months each year as these people do, instead of three or four months during the spring and summer.

Delaware is between two bays and sure has lots of mosquitoes. They seem to be the principal drawback to cattle raising here.

One thing that seemed strange to me is that they still use the whipping post as a punishment here.

The laws are quite different here from the laws of Tennessee. That is in regard to punishment. I consider this trip here one of the grandest treats of my life, and wish some of my friends who went to school at Pleasant Hill were with me to see some of the things they read about in history. They cannot imagine how much they have really learned until they see some of them and get away from the idea that history studying is like reading a novel.

Another great thing here is that most of the people are nice and hospitable and like to hear the stories a southerner has to tell.

Wishing the Herald and its many readers success, I am cordially and sincerely yours, Grant Holman.

HAMBLIN, MONT.

Dear Herald, and many readers: Will write again as the Editor was kind enough to print my last letter.
Well I will try to tell the readers about my Fourth of July in the west.
I went to Wolf Point, 30 miles on Sunday the 4th and on Monday the 5th was their celebration day. At 9:30 o'clock the Indians had a parade, and it was certainly interesting, all with war paint on, some with their tom-hawks in their hands, some with a stick with feathers on, it representing a scalp and they had a dance representing a battle of years ago. And it made the writer shiver as it was my first time to see anything like it.
The squaws were yelling from the whoop and the men were dancing.
There is only one dance the squaws take part in, and that is the sun dance; they dance in a circle and then after the dance they all went back to their tepees. At 1:30 in the afternoon they had a ball game between the Indians and the Wolf Point High School boys; the Indians winning.
And another ball game between Vida and Poplar, Vida beating Poplar 7 to one. Next came the horse racing, which was quite interesting. Hank Hank Cusker's horse winning the one half mile race; and then the bucking came next. There were eight bronchos and five men rode them.
The interesting one was the fellow who rode without a saddle and got bucked off once. Next came the greased pig, the one that caught the pig got it; the winner was an Indian boy. At 8:30 came the dance which lasted until morning. Everybody returned to their homes saying that they had enjoyed themselves fine.

The writer went to Hamblin Thursday.

Miss Edith Dexter visited the writer a few days ago.

Miss Ruth Goolsby, who is staying at Paxtor, Mont., was home for a few days last week.

Hello Ha Hix, why don't you write to the Herald?

E.W. Goolsby made a business trip to Wolf a few days ago.

Come on you Double Springs writers, with the news, as I enjoy reading them.

Come on Alonzo Sherrell with your letters. They are fine.

Hello Willie B., are you going to school at Lone Oak this year?

Cora Goolsby.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that I will, on Saturday, September 25th, 1915, at the South door of the store house of W. H. James in the town of Bloomington Springs, Tennessee, at one o'- clock, p. m., sell to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, by virtue of the authority in me vested by virtue of a trust deed executed to me by W. H. James and wife, Nannie James, which has been duly acknowledged and registered in the register's office of Putnam county, Tennessee, in Trust Deed book "M" on pages 257 and 258. All the property mentioned and described in said trust deed, the same being one lot of about one-half acre of land, lying on the Bloomington Springs and Gainesboro road just south of said store house, and bounded as follows: On the south by lands of J. I. Allison, on the east by William Stafford's heirs, on the west by ..... Rehorn and on the north by said Bloomington Springs and Gainesboro road, the remainder of the stock of goods mentioned in said trust deed and the book of accounts also set out in said trust deed, as well as the lot of about two acres of land, mentioned and described in a trust deed executed to me as trustee by said James and wife on the 1st day of March, 1913 to secure a debt of $350.00 and interest to John Tucker. The first above described lot, the stock of goods and book of accounts will be sold to pay the general creditors of said James, as provided by the first trust deed above mentioned, and the two acre lot will be sold to satisfy the debt of $350.00 and interest due to said John Tucker.
All of said property will be sold for cash in hand and the real estate will also be sold for cash in hand and in bar of the equity of redemption, homestead and dower. The purchaser of said real estate will be given a general warranty deed and will be given possession within a reasonable time.
Here is a bargain for some one, so don't forget the sale. This Aug. 25th, 1915. I. D. Brown, Trustee.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr.
Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pennersville, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headaches so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.
I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.
I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got better."

taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.
I have now been taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.
I am so thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has done for me." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been found a very valuable medicine for disorders of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.
